EBA Master Class Course series

The executive committee of the EBA has agreed to re-establish the Master Class Course series in burns from 2016. These courses will run twice a year and gather world leaders in burn care to discuss recent advances. The target audience will be 200-300 multidisciplinary delegates from Europe and beyond. The program aims to compliment the educational program of the ISBI. The first of these courses will be held in Birmingham in September 2016.

EBA Burn Care Guidelines and Accreditation

The EBA practice guidelines and care standards have been published on the EBA website. Currently, burn centre accreditation has become mandatory in certain European countries including Germany, England, Wales and Switzerland. The EBA has formulated a peer review accreditation process that is starting this year in 3 centres in Switzerland.

European Burn Research Network

A group of European burn centre directors met in Birmingham on 29 January 2015 and discussed the prospect of establishing a European burn network for burns research collaboration. The group included several directors of the burn centres across Europe who are interested in Burns research and Attended by the Healing Foundation CEO. The outcome of that meeting was to form a consortium for joint applications for European Union research grants. The next meeting will be held in Hannover on 15 September 2015.

The Mediterranean Burn Club (MBC) and the Italian Burns Association Congress

was held in Turin in October 2014. Naiem Moiemmen and Peter Vogt attended the congress, which helped to strengthen relations between the northern, the southern and the Mediterranean countries. Plans for establishing a multilingual burns educational course for non-burn professionals were proposed as a joint project between the EBA and the MBC.
